"A COUNCIL DECISION"

Photo: Level crossing stop sign replaced with "Rough Surface"

Stop signs at level crossings in Balmoral and Hilltop have recently been removed and replaced with "Rough Surface" signs, leading to rumours that the rail line had officially been closed.

Harley Dreghorn, Managing Director of the NSW Rail Transport Museum at Thirlmere, has informed the Village Voice that he had been unaware of the changes to the signs, stating that it had been a "council decision", and that "the museum still has plans to extend the train rides from Thirlmere, through the cutting to Hilltop."

At this stage Mr Dreghorn is unable to say when this may occur, as a siding needs to be constructed at Hilltop to turn engines around before the line can be used.

Next year the Museum will begin a promotional campaign to increase local participation in the Museum and its operations.

From the Editor:

Has it really been three months since the last Village Voice went out ? Not a lot seems to have happened in that short period of time. but I hope you find something to interest you in this issue.

Thanks to Pat Lawrence for providing this issue's Historical Feature about the opening of the mudbrick toilet block and her staged 'stunt' to mark the 'decommissioning' of the old toilet. I am now out of historical features and would appreciate the loan of any old village photos, news clippings or information about the history of the village so that we can all learn a little more about the past days of Balmoral.

At the request of the fire brigade I have once again included the fire restrictions which came into force on the 1st October. I know many people have already seen them but many new residents to the village might like to make themselves familiar with the state regulations.

If you would like to contribute something to the next Village Voice, drop it in to me at No 7 Station Street, phone me on 48 898 146 or Email me at my new email address. (paulmallia@yahoo.com.au).

The next edition will be out in February. (It will be put together throughout January) so there's plenty of time to realise that you have some information that the rest of the Village might be interested in.

Paul Mallia.

Syringe Alert

A syringe, recently found on the roadside in the Village, is a reminder that Balmoral is not insulated from a changing world.

The syringe, found on the roadside of Wilson Drive last month, was probably thrown from a passing car, but highlights the dangers of doing innocent tasks like picking up papers from the roadside gutters or mowing the lawn bare footed.

The Highlands Post: Still Hoping

Recent negotiations between the Balmoral Association and the Distribution Department of the Highlands Post have not been successful in having its free local Newspapers delivered to Balmoral Village.

The Association had hoped that with the increase in cost of the Southern Highlands News, The Highlands Post may have been able to extend the delivery of their publication, which is free to residents of the Southern Highlands, to Balmoral.

The Association is still hopeful that with further negotiation, a positive result will be forthcoming.

Concern over Vandalism

Over the last six months there have been many instances of vandalism in the village which have not occurred before.

It has been brought to the attention of the Association that mailboxes and other property have been destroyed, residents have been disturbed late at night by noisy youths and graffiti has been painted many times on the Hall, Tennis Club, and elsewhere throughout the Village.

It is felt that much of the problem is caused by youths from elsewhere who come to the Village as guests of the residents.

It is parents' responsibility at all times to know where their children are, who they are with and what they are doing.

The Association believe that it is everybody's responsibility to maintain our pleasant village atmosphere, one of the reasons that many people have chosen to live here.

Christmas Party

The Association, along with the fire Brigade, invite everyone to attend this year's Children's Christmas Party, which is to be held on Saturday, 11th December.

During this traditional Village social occasion, it will be a chance for new residents to come along and meet the rest of the community. It is hoped that all 'older' residents will be able to come along too, for what is always a wonderful day.

Working Bee

A small number attended the working bee on Saturday 18th September, but a productive morning was spent repainting the tables in the hall grounds, as well as cleaning the windows in the Hall. Thank you to the helpers who gave their time to maintain the hall.

New Guttering

New guttering is in the process of being installed on the hall, replacing the very old rusting guttering currently in place. Many thanks to Col Ripper who has volunteered his plumbing expertise to complete the job.

Hall Hire

The hall, which is managed by the Association is available for hire. It is ideal for classes, parties or regular meetings etc for very reasonable rates. Also for hire are the hall seats, tables and a marquee tent, ideal for people having parties at home. Contact Stephen Bishop on 48 898 740.

All Welcome!

The Balmoral Association meet on the first Tuesday of each month in the Village Hall at 7:30pm. In upcoming meetings the association will be discussing ground improvements to the hall fundraising functions, as well as any other topical local issues. All residents are very welcome to attend and have a chat and tea or coffee.

Fire Brigade News.....

Hazard Reduction for '99

The Hazard reduction program this year has been quite unsuccessful due to unfavourable weather. A major burn to the south of the village resulted in perimeters only burning, with the fire not moving down deep into the gullies as it was hoped due to the fuel on the ground being too wet underneath.

Only small contained burns will now be attempted due to the oncoming summer and the introduction of fire restrictions.

Fire Restrictions

On the following pages are the NSW Fire Restrictions which came into force on 1st October. These are not imposed by the Balmoral Brigade, but are state laws with severe penalties for any breaches. They are designed to prevent unsafe situations from occurring which might result in a major bushfire over the summer season. If you have any concerns or questions, or if you need to obtain a fire permit, contact Captain, Peter Lawrence on 48 898 004.

The enclosed information on Gas Cylinder safety is also timely for summer. Please read it carefully, as gas fires are extremely dangerous.

Christmas Party

Don't miss the upcoming Christmas Party (ad opposite). Past Christmas Parties have been enjoyed by children and adults alike. Small community functions like this are rare. We hope that all Balmoral families will be able to come along and enjoy the afternoon.

Training

Congratulations to Gordon Ibbett, Stephen Bishop, Duncan Tait and Stretch who have recently completed the Village firefighting training course, equipping them with the knowledge to fight structural, gas and car fires.

Three new members, Brendan O'Connor, Jannet O'Connor, Dennis Crean, and junior member, Robert Lawrence have just begun Basic training. Basic training is now a requirement before any member is permitted to attend fires. If you are interested in completing the basic training course, either to become a regular member of the brigade, or to assist you in the case of a fire around your own home, contact the brigade.

Membership /Meetings

If you would like to become a member of the brigade, whether to be an active firefighter or to learn about fire behaviour for the protection of your own home, why not go along to weekly meetings. Participating in the small upcoming hazard reduction activities or water pumping exercises might give you an insight into the work of the fire brigade.

The Balmoral Bushfire Brigade meet each Wednesday night at 7:30pm in the fireshed. The meetings are conducted in a relaxed social setting over a cup of tea or coffee and everyone is most welcome to attend. Business is conducted on the first Wednesday of each month.

Historical Feature

The Village Hall, up until 1983 had, as toilet facilities, one ladies and one gents iron "thunderbox". It was decided to build a mudbrick toilet block.

The locals all pitched in , hands and feet and we made the bricks. By the end of 1983 the whole building was finished and long drop toilets were put in so the toilets didn't have to be emptied after dances, parties etc which we had in the hall.

The Balmoral Dunny Doo Dance, as it was heralded, officially opened the toilets on 28th January, 1984 at 6pm.

The old dunny was tied up with toilet paper, the nails already removed. The new toilet was also wrapped up with toilet paper. A secret volunteer was asked to sit on the old "thunderbox" smoking a cigarette, reading a newspaper and baggy knickers around ankles.

The first volunteer reneged on the deal so I volunteered.

Being a non-smoker I used quite a few matches keeping that cigarette alight - it kept going out.

The time came for the official opening. The old toilet building had to be disposed of first. The toilet paper was cut and I jumped up in an Oscar winning performance, in shock horror, yanking up the baggy knickers. The new toilet was now officially declared open for use.

Afterwards we had a games night, cards, roulette etc, followed by dancing. A good night was had by all.
